"For how else do you expect to see?"

came a bodyless voice.

"This will be unlike anything you've ever felt, an unnatural sensation. I'll need to open you up and operate on your very soul, but your flesh will try to reject my work.

Who's that?

It's a procedure
the human body wasn't created to endure, but through this pain
you will live.

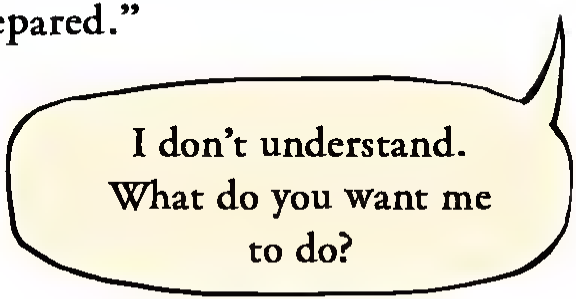
"Everyone will face The End. But I can help you to be prepared."



"I can only help you if you trust me.

"First things first.

We must start with your eyes."

Where are you?

So Dino... Do you trust me?

Only if you trust me. So I ask again...

do you?"

What choice do I have?

"Choice is all that you have, child."

Do what you have to do then.

Are you going to tell them what I've done?
"Hardly, why would I do that?" The voice says.
Please don't let them in.
You... You've gotta help me.

Tears stream down Dino's face.

"That's why I brought you here." Says the voice.
